STABS DOCTOR TO HEART.

Oakland Man Rescues Daughter.

Finds Her in Physician's Room and Seducer Hidden in Closet.

Drags Him Into Girl's Sight and Knives Him; Then Surrenders.

Police Refused to Aid Parents Who Thought Young Woman Hypnotized.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

AKLAND, March 28.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Walking into the Oakland Police Station this evening at 9:35 o'clock, James T. Patrick, a grocery man, whose store is at Fifth and Genoa streets, threw a four-inch pocket knife on the sergeant's table and calmly announced that he had stabbed and killed Dr. A. E. Byron, a prominent physician and surgeon, whom he had found in the Alhambra apartment at No. 1027 Grove street, with his 22-year-old daughter, Ethel, who, according to the statement of the father, had been kept for a year in the rooms of the doctor, and was a helpless victim of his hypnotic powers.

The tragedy came as a sequel to the application of the father and mother twenty minutes earlier to the police authorities asking them to arrest Dr. Byron on a charge of seducing the girl and keeping her a prisoner in his rooms. The police refused this request, explaining that the girl was of age and that, consequently the case was out of their jurisdiction. The father then left, announcing that he would go to the doctor's apartment and make an investigation, which would furnish him evidence sufficient to force an arrest.

FINDS DOCTOR HIDING.
This evening, determined to vindicate his daughter's honor and compel the physician to relinquish what control he had over the girl, Patrick forced his way into Dr. Byron's rooms at the Alhambra, found the physician clad only in a night gown, hiding in a closet, his daughter lying on the bed, and a pocket knife in his hand. Patrick threw his daughter to one side, and began a search of the room, opening closet doors and seeking behind the bed. At a closet in the corner of the apartment, he was unable to open the door until he had tugged against the handle for some time. He finally wrenched it open and advanced into the dark recess, to find the physician coming forward to meet him.

The physician had his right hand behind his back as though he carried a weapon. Patrick, wary, advanced with his knife open and plunged it into Dr. Byron's heart as the physician made a lunge toward him. A scuffle ensued, in which the physician received a deep, two-inch gash on the right wrist. After the victim sunk to the floor, Patrick calmly surrendered himself to the police.

POLICE REFUSED TO ACT.
Patrick, accompanied by his wife, visited the detective bureau at 8:35 o'clock this evening and asked Detective McSorley that a plain clothesman be detailed to accompany them to the Alhambra apartment, where he said his daughter, Ethel, was to meet Dr. Byron at 8 o'clock.

"This man has ruined my daughter and I want him arrested," said Patrick.

"How old is the girl?" asked McSorley.

"Twenty-two years old."

"That takes the matter out of the jurisdiction of the police," replied McSorley. "But with your daughter's proper evidence against the man, you might have him prosecuted for seduction."

"That's what I want—evidence," replied Patrick.

"Come, we can't wait here any longer," interrupted Mrs. Patrick, "our daughter is in that man's power and we've got to rescue her."

"Keep cool," admonished her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick then left.

Twenty minutes later Patrick entered Detective headquarters for the second time. He threw a clasp knife on the table and said: "I killed him with that."

Detective McSorley ordered the man into custody and notified Inspector Charles Beck, who hastened to the Alhambra. Apartments in the police automobile taking with them Detective McSorley and Patrick.

Patrick's statement to Detective McSorley tonight was as follows: "My daughter has been in this man's power for months past. This fellow has a wife residing in East Oakland, to whom he is paying alimony, and he is living with another woman who calls herself his wife. He has introduced his daughter as his wife."

"Dr. Byron was formerly practicing in Mendocino county, but got into some difficulty there and was run out of town. He has been practicing medicine and surgery in the Sherman and Clay building, Fourteenth and Clay streets, since then."

COMPLETELY IN HIS POWER.

physical and mental wreck, a shadow of her former self. The fellow had been completely in his power. I am positive he exerted hypnotism over her and that, in addition to this, he induced her to take up the drug habit.

"In fact Byron has repeatedly boasted of his hypnotic powers over women. Frequently I have heard of him saying: 'There is not a woman on earth I couldn't get by hypnotism.'"

"I have seen Dr. Byron but twice—once before tonight. I and my wife had endeavored in vain repeatedly to induce our

CRISIS IS FAST APPROACHING.FEDERALS AND INSURRECTOS ARE NEAR AND IN FORCE.RABAGO COMPLETES REMARKABLE MARCH TO CHIHUAHUA.CLOSELY BESET BY REBELS ON NOW FAMOUS CAMPAIGN.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

EL PASO, March 23.—The relations between President Diaz's military forces in Northern Mexico and the insurrectionists are declared to be fast approaching a crisis.

Gen. Rabago and his 1100 Federal troops are safely encamped in Chihuahua City after a remarkable four-week march from Juarez.

Less than thirty miles to the west Francisco I. Madero, the insurgent leader, is gathering his forces and building defenses, in preparation for a move, he says, "will more than convince the world that the insurrection is not losing headway."

From Encinitas, on the Mexican National Railway, Madero moved south-west to San Andres on the Mexican Northwestern Railway, thus completing a swing from less than thirty miles north of Chihuahua City to a point about an equal distance west.

DESPERATE MARCH.
Rabago reached the outskirts of Chihuahua after a weary struggle. His 22-mile march through the heart of the insurrection country to relieve Chihuahua was harassed almost every mile by the firing of the insurgents hidden in the mountains and brush.

The bridges which he rebuilt in the hope that trains might follow him were blown up behind him. Twice he was reinforced, until the remainder of the 700 with whom he started for Juarez was increased to 1100. Dozens of his men were killed and buried along the railroad tracks.

Chihuahua City, on the arrival of Rabago, became the strongest Federal garrison in the state. It has about 3000 soldiers and is encircled with fortifications while the churches and chief buildings have the appearance of arsenals and the houses are piled high with sandbags to be used as breastworks in case of an attack.

JUAREZ SITUATION SERIOUS.
Juarez has 500 Federal troops and 3000 men. These are practically isolated because of lack of train and telegraph service. The town is between the Federal strongholds, including Madero, Candelaria, Ahumada, Gallegos and Sane, are surrounded by insurrectionists. The intervening country is patrolled by insurrectionist guards. It is said to be Madero's plan to prevent a junction of the Federal forces by maintaining them in their present locations.

The situation of Juarez has been regarded as serious for a week. A number of families have moved to El Paso because of the presence of the insurrection along the river front and west of the city. Many people have been induced to remain, however, by assurances that Federal troops which went out to scout failed to provoke any firing.

Despite conditions in the field, it was said at the junta today that messages have been received from Madero that he has a bearing on peace terms. But some stated Madero's recent messages were emphatic in the contention that peace was not probable so long as President Diaz remained in power.

PROHIBITS GUERRILLA WARFARE.
If it takes Diaz four months to find out it is necessary for him to go to Europe for his health, then the war probably will go on until he sails," it was said at the junta. Along with an assertion that the insurrection was extended to more than two-thirds of the states of Mexico, a decree by Madero was promulgated prohibiting guerrilla warfare. The decree states:

"With the greater part of the republic in a state of revolution, it is necessary to organize the insurgent forces and constitute them in regular corps in order to render their acts more efficacious and to cease the guerrilla warfare which may cause persons and property damage that would be avoided by organized effort under general and well-defined military laws. I have, therefore, thought it well to decree, that the insurgent forces shall be organized into regular army corps."

"All these army corps are to be subject to military ordinance, except in the following points: No deserter will be punished except it is done in the face of the enemy."

"All army grades will be effective during the campaign, but upon its termination, these grades become honorary, as a glorious memory of having taken part in the present national insurrection."

"A law later will be passed whereby widows, orphans and persons of old age may be pensioned or compensated."

The President of the provisional government is the supreme head of the insurgent army."

CALIFORNIA GUARD OFFICERS TO STUDY MANEUVERS AT SAN DIEGO.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

SACRAMENTO, March 23.—An announcement was made today by the Adjutant-General's office of the 4th officers who have been selected to report for duty at the school of war instruction on the Mexican border.

They will report for duty to Gen. Elias T. San Diego.

The following officers have been detailed:

Col. Davis A. Smith, Fifth Infantry, Oakland; Col. William G. Shriver, Seventh Infantry, Los Angeles; Col. Bond, Second Infantry, Chicago; Maj. William J. Hanna, medical school, Sacramento; Capt. Ralph J. Saneau, Adjutant Fifth Infantry, Oakland; Capt. S. Luke Howe, Quartermaster Second Infantry, Sacramento; Capt. Frank Prescott, Commissary Seventh Infantry, Los Angeles; Capt. Charles H. Hutchings, Company I, Seventh Infantry, Pasadena; Capt. Rushton McDonald, Company G, Fifth Infantry, Alameda; Capt. Benjamin M. Agath, Company M, Second Infantry, Hanford.

These officers will leave as to arrive here April 3. The period of at-wish the United States should mean the polls? Don Gustavo was asked.

"Emphatically the intervention of the United States has not been asked nor do we consider it necessary," was the reply. "Mexico can and will work out her own destiny."

"Do you know why American troops are mobilized on the border then?" "Certainly," Mr. Taft has said "maneuvers" and no doubt that is the only reason."

Among the fundamental demands of the revolutionists are:

"First—Immediate resignation of Vice-President Corral.

"Second—Retraction legally of the re-election clause in the Constitution prohibiting more than one term for President."

"Third—Obnoxious governors of States appointed by Diaz against the wishes of the citizens of the States affected, to be deposed.

"Fourth—The rebels' demands for the States affected, to be deposed."

The elder Madero's story of his meeting with Limantour was a brief, simple tale of two old men who sat down and chatted of old times, old friends, and then hit upon the subject uppermost in both minds.

Limantour came to the United States otherwise than as a stage of his journey to Mexico.

"We are old friends," said Senor Madero. "We talked of many things. It was I who took the initiative and called upon him. Among other subjects we discussed mobilization of United States troops on our borders."

"Then we came to the subject of the revolution. He said he would use all his influence with President Diaz to secure the concessions we demanded; I promised labor with the members of my family who have been prominent in the fight for reform."

"I have assurances that our work will bear fruit soon. The delay in getting together will come from the necessity of conferring with those whose forces who have risked their lives in the field."

"The meeting place should be San Antonio or Washington, but the capital of your country is so far away. It might even be the City of Mexico, but neutral territory would be better."

WAR GAME HELPED.
Despite evasions in the interviews, which were given in every courteous manner, it was apparent that the mobilization of the American troops has played the major part in bringing the two sides together.

In Mexico, there is no one, except foreigners, who can see any calculation greater than that of the United States. The Mexicans are proud and would sink every difference to stand against an invader.

An election, for the first time, will be difficult for execution and problematic as to satisfactory results—not as to choosing officers, but as to the work of the government.

In the last year an educated class has arisen in Mexico and it is this class which has been the backbone of the revolution, but the greater proportion is still illiterate and without views outside the daily tortillas and beans."

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

AGUA PRIETA (Mex.) March 23.—Messages from Gov. Torres over Federal wires to Agua Prieta, also messages to the rebel junta here, show that the rebels suffered a decisive defeat near Ures yesterday. The rebel insurrectionist army of about five hundred men, who were pursuing the Federal troops, were defeated. The messages to the rebel junta place the number of Federal dead at thirty.

It is believed that the rebel force which engaged in the fighting at La Colorado a few days ago had divided, one section going around to the west of Hermosillo from the south under command of Jesus Rivera. The other half, under command of a leader named Loyzén, marched to the east and north, joining the rebels at San Rafael, near Ures, where they were joined by Giron and force from Sahuaripa, and the combined force under command of Loyzén took the town of Ures. One of these scouts is said to have taken along a bottle of mescal and when he saw the Federal army thought the troops to be rebels.

Col. Ojeda, who had collected forces from Hermosillo, had obtained information that the rebels were near San Rafael, and, before approaching the town, divided his force into two wings, which neared the camp in the form of a great pair of shears. The rebel scout realized his mistake too late and got into the rebel camp a short time ahead of the Federal forces, who were on the edge of the barracks from both sides.

DESPERATE FIGHT.
Capt. Barron of the Sonora rurales formed part of the advancing column, mounted, and this force almost succeeded in cutting off the retreat of the rebels. The latter fought desperately, first in the barracks and then from their saddles as they broke through the enclosing column.

In a great cloud of dust, the rebel force, nearly all of whom were mounted, had some advantage in getting out of the trap, but the Federal forces were shot from under their heads to be left behind. The rebels claim that only about seven men escaped, but that about sixty-seven were taken prisoners, and these, they claim, figure in the death list given out by the Federal.

The Federal forces numbered in all 600, including parts of the Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Twenty-second battalions and regulars from Hermosillo, together with Capt. Barron's rurales.

Juan Cabral and Giron escaped. The Federal wires out of Agua Prieta are interpreted as meaning that the rebels were shot from under their heads to be left behind. The rebels claim that only about seven men escaped, but that about sixty-seven were taken prisoners, and these, they claim, figure in the death list given out by the Federal.

NEW CABINET TAKES
OFFICE UNDER DIAZ.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

MEXICO CITY, March 23.—Standing before Minister of Finance Limantour and Secretary of War Cosío, the only members of his old Cabinet present, President Diaz today, in turn, solemnly pronounced the names of the new cabinet to uphold the laws and the Constitution.

For the first time in his long administration Gen. Diaz looked upon a Cabinet pledged to reform and whose appointment had come about solely because of the insistent demand of the public.

The creation of the new Cabinet and its installation in the national palace was the public expression of the President's determination to surround himself with men of younger generation in the hope that he might bring peace to this country.

In the hall of Ambassadors, where the ceremony took place, probably there was no man older than the President himself, but few realized his age. Don Isidoro Almaraz, a member of a prominent Sonora family of that name and a Freemason; the postmaster, the school teacher, the telegraph operator and several others were placed in the hall building and there deliberately shot down.

The bullet intended for the telegraph operator, however, only grazed his scalp, inflicting a slight flesh wound. He fell to the floor with others, one or two bodies falling on top of him. The telegraph operator, a mere boy, remained perfectly quiet, hoping for a possible opportunity to escape.

One of the others moved and another bullet was sent crashing into his brain. The shooting occurred at 11 o'clock in the morning and a squad of revolutionists remained in the building with the bodies of their victims all day, the greater part of the time the telegraph operator lying motionless under the dead bodies, his hope he might escape.

Near daylight the next morning he managed to pull off his shoes and escape from the building and traveling barefooted by unfrequented paths through the morning, reached Chihuahua, about forty miles to the south-west, four days later. His absence was discovered and he was pursued by Loyza's men but they failed to find him.

Whether this leave of absence is later to be followed by his resignation, is not so definite, but that it will be, is regarded likely. The Vice-President is said to be resigning, and he will leave April 12 for Europe. Under the Mexican Constitution and laws, a special election is necessary in filling such a vacancy, and it is created by his resignation. In case of death, the vacancy would be filled by members of the Cabinet, in turn, beginning with the Minister of Foreign Relations.

On the assumption that Corral will leave the Vice-Presidency, there is based much speculation. It is pointed out that should he resign, much time must elapse before his successor could be chosen and that in the meantime Diaz would be in no position to resign, inasmuch as it would leave the country without a President or a Vice-President.

Slaughter.

NAT GOODWIN'S MATRIMONIAL
RECORD BROUGHT DOWN TO DATE

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

FIRST wife was Eliza Weatherby, popular English actress, who died in 1887.

Lelia Farrell, a soubrette, sued him for breach of promise in 1887. This case was compromised.

Second wife was Mrs. Nellie R. Baker-Pease, divorced wife of a wealthy Buffalo, N. Y., coal operator. Their marital life was marked by many storms and they were divorced in 1892, she having filed the suit the year previous. She died in 1902.

Third wife was Maxine Elliott, famous stage beauty with the "midnight eyes." They were married in February, 1898. In private life Maxine was Mrs. George A. McDermott of New York, she having secured a divorce from McDermott. He at one time had been very wealthy, but suffered reverses. After the divorce he regained his lost fortune. Goodwin and Maxine, his wife, started together but she divorced him in 1908, naming Edna Goodrich as co-respondent.

Fourth wife was Edna Goodrich, a remarkably beautiful actress, young enough to have been his daughter. They were married in Boston, Mass., November 8, 1908, the event being marked by much magnificence. She paid him an unexpected visit when he was in Montreal and when she entered his room unannounced, what she saw caused her to hasten back to New York and bring suit for divorce. The evidence was taken chiefly in St. Louis and she was granted a decree March 28, 1911. The decree forbids Goodwin to remarry, in New York, during the lifetime of Miss Goodrich, but gossip already has it that he will marry Miss Lannon of St. Louis and remain out of New York.

FIRE PARTIALLY DESTROYS
NEW YORK STATE CAPITOL.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

ALBANY (N. Y.) March 23.—At 2:30 o'clock this morning fire broke out in the Capitol building, a swift breeze was blowing at the time and, despite the efforts of the firemen, one entire side of the building was soon wrapped in flames. The State treasury was destroyed by 4 o'clock, and the entire building seemed doomed.

The situation across the river from Rocilla ranch in Brewster county is getting serious. The main families who are residing on this side and who have not been able to get any of their stock across, are in a more serious difficulty than those left in Mexico, on account of the food question.

It is just the older of the men and all the women and children who have come here, while the younger men have stayed to fight the insurrection and protect their stock. They have, until recently been able to bring a few cattle across for beef, but now they have orders not to move a thing.

In Flames.

EL PASO, March 23.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An incident of the revolution, probably the most horrible that has occurred up to the present time, took place at the little town of Guasapares, in Southwestern Chihuahua, this week. That place was taken by the rebels, and the United States army, led by a man named Loyza, a miner formerly in the employ of the Rio Pinta Mining Company. The town surrendered without a fight on the 15th of the month.

Eleven citizens, including the jefe politico, Don Isidoro Almaraz, a member of a prominent Sonora family of that name and a Freemason; the postmaster, the school teacher, the telegraph operator and several others were placed in the jail building and there deliberately shot down.

The bullet intended for the telegraph operator, however, only grazed his scalp, inflicting a slight flesh wound. He fell to the floor with others, one or two bodies falling on top of him. The telegraph operator, a mere boy, remained perfectly quiet, hoping for a possible opportunity to escape.

past her husband had aided a poor miner who had later discovered a fabulously rich mine in Mexico.
Pictures were painted upon an imaginary canvas and the story was bolstered up by letters and telegrams from many sources describing the richness of the property and the wealth that would accrue to its owners. During the negotiations which Mrs. Kendall carried on with the pair, extending over a period of five weeks, she was continually urged to pay the money. This, she was told, was not only because of what she would get in return, but to aid the same poor miner who had broken his foot in falling down the shaft of the mine. To hasten her action she was shown the "miner" suffering the agony of a fractured and unattended limb as he lay in his bed in a little cottage at Ocean Park.
The plans of the pair went for nothing, because Mrs. Kendall insisted that they take the gold to any of the Los Angeles banks to be tested before any real money would be advanced.
THE GAME BEGUN.
Mrs. Kendall spends the winters in Los Angeles, but the remainder of the year she spends at her home in Toledo,
It was while she was in the eastern city,
about five weeks ago, that a telegram came, addressed to her de-

Mrs. Ida H. Kendall, above, a wealthy tourist, was selected as a victim by John Moore, the old man in the lower group, and H. Hollin, their purpose being to sell her the chunk of metal shown in the photograph for twelve thousand dollars. She consulted a male relative, and the police were called. The gold-brickers are in jail.

John Moore, 65 years old, the men who are accused to have tried to swindle her of $12,000, are now in the City Jail on suspicion of felony.
The gold brick which Mrs. Kendall was offered for $12,000 was of enormous size, but represented, she was told, only a small fraction of the property that

WORLD-SEARCH HERE FOR STRAY COUNTESS.

HAVE you a countess on your list of acquaintances? One who might be hiding her identity from the world at large?
Alvah Wilson, assistant manager of the Hotel St. Francis, San Francisco, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday in quest of information. He is seeking one Countess Lina Kolodzaika de Lubniowski, daughter of a noble house of Poland, who, about five years ago, ran away from her home at Krasnastav, a little town near the headwaters of the Vistula River, in Russian Poland.
The story, as romantic as fiction, leads through many countries, the last clue of a long search ending in Los Angeles about two years ago.
Count Lubniowski came to the trail of his only daughter. He was on the trail of his only daughter. He longed for a glimpse of the world after several years in a Parisian convent and

Back-to-Farm Movement Is

When you faintly ask your wife where she will get the money for the proposed summer vacation she will smile and tell you she has been saving on the groceries and the meat, really quite an amount, during the past three months or more. Since you haven't been doing the buying of the necessities of the table, you may not be aware that things are down practically 20 per cent. from last year's prices.

A comparative statement of retail prices—the prices that prevail at any first-class downtown store—will easily demonstrate the fact that you are living more cheaply. Take eggs, one of the staples without which life would hardly be worth living. You can buy any quantity this time for 20 cents a dozen. A year ago hens were a trifle backward about coming forward with their offerings and as a result the grocer was asking 30 cents a dozen.
Right there you have a saving of 30 per cent. on the dollar.

THEY ALL COME DOWN.

The very best creamery extra butter is selling at 30 cents today. Last year you were hawking the fact that butter cost as high as 40 cents, though on some days and drove the price down to 35 cents. The finest California full cream cheese, made mostly throughout the central part of the State, is worth 17 cents a pound, while the best eastern cream is bringing 22 cents. The standard quality of cheese were worth 23 and 24 cents, respectively, just a few months ago.
Then there is flour. It is $1 a barrel cheaper. Quarter-barrels sell at $1.60 for the very best bakers' varieties. They sold at $1.85 twelve months ago. All sizes are comparatively less.
Meats and flour, as well as grain, cost less now than when the prices were being decided and commissions formed to locate their whereabouts in the starry skies. A single dollar today buys eighteen pounds of best cane sugar against fifteen and sixteen pounds formerly.

Lard, ham and bacon, on the prevision list, are always factors. They have been higher than people ever expected them to go, and in turn they have declined. The finest brand of bacon is worth 23 cents now, against 34 cents not very long ago. Ham is selling at 21 cents on the finest grade, and from there down. It sold up to 24 cents. Lard is bringing 50 cents on three-pound pails, 40 cents on five-pound pails and 14.65 on ten-pound pails. This is a reduction of just 20 per cent.

You can buy beef from 8 cents a pound up. Porterhouse steaks are worth 20 cents, against a former 25.
T-bone steaks are 25, against 28 to 30 cents, rounds are 15 cents, against 17 to 18 cents, sirloin is 20 cents, against a 25-cent price. Similar reductions prevail in fresh pork, in mutton and lamb, and so there is easily
a good saving on all food products.

BASED ON PRODUCTION.

What has caused the decline? Walter E. Smith, of the grocery company that bears his name, stated yesterday that in his opinion the lower prices are the outcome of greater production. "This movement has sent many good men back to the land and in a single year the difference caused by this one item has brought down the price to the consumer through an increased production of crops," said Smith.

F. Young of Young's Market Company, said that cattle production is slightly on the increase. "The real reason of lower prices of meat, however, lies in the fact that hay and grain were much lower this year than last, and on that account the farmers can dispose of their sheep, cows, pigs and poultry at lower prices," he declared.
"There is no pursuit at all to the various declines when viewed from that point of view."

In addition to the fact that staples are lower, grocers are getting a better margin to arrive in quantity. Young onions, for example, are wholesaling at 10 cents per dozen bunches. That explains why a grocer can readily afford to sell three, four or five bunches for 5 cents and still make profit. Carrots, beets, radishes, peas, lettuce, asparagus and tomatoes are all approximately lower in price to make a noticeable difference in the cost of living. The men who are responsible for the production and marketing of foodstuffs have done their share, according to one of them, to merit real reward, and they are looking forward to seeing other tradespeople and manufacturers to follow the example they have set and reduce clothing, furniture and various necessities.

Charged with having willfully de-

Fickelisen, No. 223 West Thirtieth street, head of the Main Realty Company, F. L. Martin, a painting contractor, was arrested yesterday by officers of the University Police Station.
According to Mrs. Fickelisen she disagreed with Martin concerning the color that the bathroom in a house which she is having constructed at No.
222 West Twenty-eighth street should be painted. Martin, she says, held the painting forbade him laying the color of his choice, he took several buckets of paint and dashed it on the walls.
When Mrs. Fickelisen arrived at the house some time later to see whether the painter had followed her instructions she found the interior splurged with many colors, she alleges. She immediately informed M. L. Cooper, who has the general contract for the house, and he swore to a complaint for Martin's arrest.

County Officers Start Out Early and Find Contraband Goods, Taking Proprietors by Surprise.

Four alleged violators of the liquor statutes were scooped in yesterday by officers from the District Attorney's department, in accordance with the programme mapped out by Capt. Fredericks on the county boot-leggers.
John W. Munz, formerly a justice of the peace at Ellsworth Lake, was the first arrested. The officers drove up to his ranch early yesterday morning, and asked Munz to replenish their canteens.
He did so, it is alleged, in quantities larger than the law allows.
George Banninger's winery at Palmdale was the next place visited. He was aroused out of bed and took their money for liquor.
J. F. Caryl of Fairmont has one of the most attractive ranches on the desert. His almond tracts are said by experts to be the best cultivated in the State. The officers state they got several demijohns on his ranch yesterday aside from several more they purchased.
The last raid was made at Fred Godde's resort at Palmdale, on the return trip. They got a good-sized load of booze which they will shortly confiscate.

The four victims will be arraigned this morning before Justice of the Peace Klamroth of Pasadena.
There will be no raids today, tomorrow or Friday, Saturday, however, half a dozen places will be probed,
while ten have been carded for investigation the following day. The county's raiding force has earned over $5000 this month on liquor fines. This is the largest sum ever collected by the District Attorney's corps in the same period of time.

PUBLIC SERVICE: City Hall and Courts.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Mayor Alexander, Meyer Lissner and the City Council yesterday came to the conclusion that the charter amendments are not an undoubted success and the Council voted $5000 toward bringing the national convention of the Municipal League here to assist in framing a new city constitution.

The Board of Public Utilities yesterday opened negotiations with H. J. Arnold with a view to having him report on a transportation plan for interurban traffic in Los Angeles.

The Mayor yesterday appointed A. N. Davidson and James C. Kays members of the Public Service Commission and reappointed Dr. John R. Haynes on the Civil Service Commission.

Judge Conroy decided yesterday in the MacCracken annulment case that the fact that the husband was a victim of consumption at the time of the union, is not a legal reason for the annulment of the marriage.

The findings in the Baldwin contested heirship case, were finally signed by Judge Rives yesterday. No action yet taken to appeal the case to the State Supreme Court.

At the City Hall.

MAYOR ASKS NEW CHARTER.

MONTH-OLD PATCHES ALREADY WORN OUT.

At Suggestion of Meyer Lissner Council Pledges Five Thousand Dollars Toward Bringing National Convention of Municipal League Here to Help Frame Constitution.

It's almost a month since the city charter has had a patch or coat of paint. Therefore the City Council voted yesterday to offer the National Municipal League $5000 to come to Los Angeles next fall and submit a design for an entirely new structure.

When the charter amendments, adopted on March 6 were first proposed, the attention of the Council was called to the fact that such a patchwork would prove entirely unsatisfactory. Three Councilmen, Stewart, Washburn and Gregory, opposed the holding of a special election and called attention to the weakness of the scheme. The Times suggested that Los Angeles needed a new charter.

Yesterday the Mayor sent a message to the Council. He said, "Unquestionably Los Angeles is greatly in need of a new charter. Meyer Lissner proposed the plan of calling on the Municipal League to take charge of the work. He said, 'Our charter-making and amending in the past for various reasons has not been satisfactorily done.' The meeting of the National Municipal League is usually held in November. The Executive Committee will meet in New York on April 20 to fix the time and place and the Council's offer of $5000 for the meeting will be submitted at that time.

Councilman Stewart, who recently resigned the position to say 'I told you so' when the matter came up in the Council.

"I see," he said, "that the Mayor has had a change of heart. I notice also that Uncle Andy has had a change of heart (referring to Councilman Andrews). It's a very encouraging sign. Quo vadis? In other words, whether we are hurrying so fast? We have just had a special charter election and now we need $5000 to import a corps of experts to take it to pieces and build a new one. It seems to me it would be a good idea to refer this matter to the Finance Committee."

Councilman Andrews waxed indignant and eloquent over the irony of the Council financier. He said his name hadn't changed a bit except to grow more so. He had always favored a new and simplified charter and the reason he favored the charter amendments was because they were step in the right direction. He thought the city would profit greatly by bringing the Municipal League convention here.

Councilman Washburn then announced that he had experienced a change of heart himself and if his associates were really in favor of a new and sensible charter he would vote for the $5000 appropriation in the hope that Los Angeles might get a charter that would look like a charter rather than a wastebasket full of unclassified ordinances.

The Lissner communication which brought the matter before the Council was addressed to the Mayor and is as follows:

March 20, 1911.

Honorable George Alexander, Mayor of Los Angeles.

Dear Mr. Mayor: A meeting of the Executive Committee of the National Municipal League, which I expect to attend, will be held in New York on April 20, for the purpose of fixing the time and place of the next annual meeting of that organization.

As is well known, the annual meetings of the National Municipal League are well attended by the most eminent experts on municipal affairs in the United States, and the league for many years has been the recognized leader in all movements tending to improvement in the government of municipalities.

It has occurred to me that an effort should be made to secure for Los Angeles the next meeting, which is usually held in November. And in this connection I suggest the following idea.

That the Mayor and Council invite the National Municipal League to hold its annual meeting this year in Los Angeles, and request that organization to send here in advance of its meeting well recognized experts to make an investigation and study of the different branches of our municipal government and prepare, in co-operation with some of our own citizens, a modern charter for this city to be presented to the City Council at the annual meeting.

Our charter-making and amending in the past for various reasons has not been satisfactorily done. Our present charter is more like a compilation of ordinances than a fundamental document. It is much too cumbersome. In recent years there have been many changes tending toward simplification in the form of municipal governments. How far these theories may be successfully applied to the government of a city of several hundred thousand or a million is our problem, and it has not yet been solved in practical operation.

It would be my hope that if the city of Los Angeles would invite the National Municipal League to come to Los Angeles to study our problem and report thereon, guaranteeing to the experts who would come in advance their actual expenses, not to exceed in the aggregate $5000, that I might be able to induce the other members of the Executive Committee to decide upon Los Angeles as the place for the annual meeting.

If this were brought about, it would, I believe, be as good as decided.

be thereafter elected a scientific, modern, comprehensive and yet simple city charter.

If my suggestion appeals to Your Honor, I would be glad to have you transmit same to Council with your approval and request early determination. Very respectfully,

M. LISSNER.

PLAYING HOOKEY.

GREGORY OR BETKOUSKI? Truancy will not be tolerated among the members of the present Council. An investigation was started yesterday to find out whether Councilmen Gregory and Betkouski have been attending strictly to public business as members of the Legislative Committee.

The trouble started in a discussion of the street speaking ordinance which came before the Council in the morning. Gregory said he had not been informed as to certain features of it. He was told that if he had been present at the meetings of the committee he would have known about it. He was charged with having picked up his hat and walked out of a recent meeting.

There is a rule that a member of a committee who fails to attend regular meetings for three consecutive weeks shall be dropped from the committee. Betkouski suggested something of this kind and Gregory immediately asked that the records be investigated. The Council ordered a report on attendance for the past six weeks to be made at the next meeting of the Council.

If either of the councilmen is found guilty of truancy he will be given his choice between wearing the dunce's cap and standing on the platform beside President or being dropped from the committee. Corporal punishment is disapproved of by Mayor Alexander.

MAY ENGAGE ARNOLD.

TRANSPORTATION PLANS. The Board of Public Utilities yesterday discussed with H. J. Arnold, the famous street railway engineer, a proposition to have him make a tentative report on street railway and transportation problems in Los Angeles.

The members of the commission are anxious to secure his services and the chief question is that of compensation. It is understood that Mr. Arnold would ask a large sum of money to make a thorough study of the conditions and report upon them with recommendations for relieving congestion and handling the future traffic.

The proposition discussed yesterday was that of having a preliminary report made by Mr. Arnold, outlining what might be done. It is hoped that both the municipal railroad to the harbor and the handling of interurban traffic without crowding the downtown streets might be included in such a report. No conclusion was arrived at by the board.

The Board of Public Works was reorganized under the new charter amendments. Meyer Lissner secured the position of chairman of the board. The members of the board are James M. Hunter, who was given a term ending on the first Monday in 1914, N. D. Davidson, the new member, drew the short term ending in 1912.

MORE APPOINTMENTS.

PUBLIC SERVICE BOARD. The Mayor yesterday appointed A. N. Davidson and James C. Kays members of the Public Service Commission and the Council confirmed the appointments. Dr. John R. Haynes was reappointed on the Civil Service Commission.

The Public Service Commission which takes the place of the Water Board, now has a full quota. It consists of Maj. Henry T. Lee, president, R. F. De Vail, P. M. Johnson, Davidson and Kays. The two members of the Police Commission, Johnson and Davidson, who went out of office through the reduction of the Police Commission, are given two of the appointments.

Kays is vice-president of the Park Bank and succeeds William D. Stephenson, who resigned to enter Congress. Davidson will succeed John R. Mathews, whose term expired some months ago.

TRIAL FOR DE VERONA.

PROSECUTOR TO DEFENDANT. E. I. De Verona, who has thrown the City Health Office into a frenzy of reform, finds himself transferred in the brief space of a few days from prosecutor to defendant. The commission yesterday fixed 10 o'clock Thursday as the hour for his trial on the charges filed by Dr. Powers, who discharged him Monday.

In the meantime De Verona has been so busy with his new campaign against the Mayor and Dr. Powers that he will find it difficult to go on trial. In fact he stands a show of being much busier on a job that will keep him in the city than in the courtroom. Commissioner Cochran thought that De Verona, in trying the case against McGill, had shown sufficient evidence to win a retrial. Dr. Powers, who would not do for judges to have an opinion before hearing the case.

Dr. Powers is pleased to have troubles stored up for him in his department. It was called to his attention yesterday that the only eligible man on the Civil Service list was Dr. Powers, who was once discharged from the Health Office on account of incompetency, but who took an examination and passed. The two appointments made for Dr. Powers from the Aqueduct clerks list where they passed examinations to the Health Department last.

APPROPRIATES MANY BOOKS.

Owner of Library Misses Sixteen Volumes and Man is Arrested Charged With Stealing Them.

A third for literature of the weighty variety was the cause of the arrest of Walter Ziegler of No. 614 South Figueroa street yesterday, by Deputy Constable Thornberg. The complaint against Ziegler, lodged by Francis Murphy of No. 122 West Seventh street, accuses him of having stolen a considerable part of Murphy's library.

It is charged that Ziegler fraudulently appropriated to his own use eight volumes of Shakespeare, two encyclopedias, two volumes of Gibbon's pictures, six works of Stevens, and a dictionary. Bond was fixed at $500, and the preliminary examination set for April 11, before Justice Summerfield.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGED.

Secretary-Bookkeeper of Cornice-Making Concern Said to Be Short and Complainant Injured.

A complaint was issued yesterday afternoon against W. H. Eaton, secretary and bookkeeper of the Tanager-Hamilton Company, cornice-makers at No. 127 South Rose street, charging him with embezzling $1415 from the company covering a period of three months.

FAITH IN CULT HEALED NOT.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FAILS TO SAVE ROMANCE.

Engaged Couple Embraced the Doctrine in Hope That Their Joint Refusal to Credit Actuality of White Plague Might Cure Husband—Wife Is Refused Divorce.

Judge Conroy yesterday denied the petition filed by Pearl Martin McCracken against Brooks McCracken to annul their marriage. It was alleged by the wife that her husband was not physically able to enter the marriage relation from the fact that he was then suffering from tuberculosis. While the court handed down no written opinion it is evident that the decree was denied for the reason that no false representations had been made by McCracken.

In the hope of escaping what seemed certain death from his ailment, McCracken went to El Paso and Albuquerque, N. M., where he embraced the teachings of Christian Science and, as the wife testified on the stand, he believed that "there was no such thing as consumption, and that his condition would be improved if he believed in the truth of the cult." The engagement broken off because of his condition, was renewed, and they were married, the wife declaring that, with her husband, she accepted the truth of Christian Science teaching. The marriage was performed unknown to the parents of the girl and she returned to her former home at El Paso, while McCracken went to San Bernardino. He is said to still suffer from consumption.

Judge Conroy was much interested in the case. He instructed the attorney representing Mrs. McCracken to secure, if possible, the affidavit of some reputable physician as to the condition of the husband at the time of the marriage. The affidavit was to secure a divorce or annulment under the allegations made in this case. This was not done, and the court found that the woman could not obtain the charges in her complaint. It is possible that an action will later be filed by the wife for a divorce on the ground of desertion.

DIVISION OF GOODS.

Judge Monroe spent yesterday hearing the evidence in the action brought by Albert Allen, a plumber, against his wife, Ellen Allen, for a division of their property. Allen alleges that the holdings of the pair are community property, accumulated since their marriage, while the wife asserts that the property is her own.

The possessions of the couple include real estate and money, the whole amounting to about $10,000. It is alleged that Allen transferred some of the real estate to his wife, with the understanding that she was to hold it for him until he should be able to get the deeds recorded until his death, but that she forgot the promise and had them placed on record some time ago.

PETITION DENIED.

IN BALDWIN LITIGATION. Judgment was signed and filed denying the petition of Beatrice Anita Baldwin Turnbull for a partial distribution of the estate of "Lucky" Baldwin, Judge Rives' court yesterday.

The matter of filing an appeal from the judgment of the court will come up two weeks hence, when the petition of Clara Baldwin Stocker and Anita Baldwin McLaughrey for a partial distribution of the estate is before the court.

In the meantime the attorneys representing the Baldwin heirs will look into the claim of Laura P. Alsip of Illinois, who alleges that she is one of the Baldwin heirs, and entitled to her share of the big estate.

The official finding of the court is as follows: "There never was a marriage either valid or null in law or by marriage whatever between the mother either of said Beatrice Anita Baldwin, or either of said Clara Baldwin Stocker and Anita Baldwin McLaughrey."

That said Beatrice Anita Baldwin, otherwise known as "Lucky" Baldwin, is not the legitimate daughter of said Elias J. Baldwin, deceased.

That said Beatrice Anita Baldwin is not entitled to receive distribution of the estate of said Elias J. Baldwin, deceased, under the will of said Elias J. Baldwin, deceased, and is not interested in said will or in said estate.

That said Beatrice Anita Baldwin is not entitled to receive distribution of said estate, and is not interested therein under Section 1387 of the civil code of the State of California.

That the said Anita Baldwin has no interest whatever in the estate of the said Elias J. Baldwin, deceased, on account of arising out of any circumstances whatever.

MURDER CASE.

TRIAL OF LUTWELLER. The trial of George C. Lutweller, who is charged with the killing of his wife at Inglewood last night, will begin in Judge Willer's court this morning. A strong fight will be put up for the acquittal of the wife-murderer.

H. A. McNeill, who found guilty of making an assault with intent to rob and will be sentenced Friday.

Leo Roy Johnson pleaded not guilty to the charge of bigamy, and his trial will begin Monday.

The following informations were filed: Alvin Calhoun, burglary; Emil Everhart, assault with intent to murder; John Martin, failure to provide; L. W. Owen and Archer Miller, burglary; Mayer Kaplan, burglary.

Calhoun asked that his case be disposed of immediately and pleaded guilty to the charge. An application for probation was filed in his behalf and the court will take up the matter April 4. The balance of the prisoners will be arraigned Friday.

C. Boruff, for the appointment of a receiver, was postponed for two weeks.

TOMB TURMOIL. On account of the continued illness of the aged Marie G. Tomb, the hearing of the petition of Henry Winger to remove her as executrix of the estate of her husband, Thomas B. ALLEGED MALPRACTICE. An action was begun yesterday by Elizabeth Lind against T. G. Devitt, a licensed physician of this city, for $25,000 damages, alleged to be due on account of alleged malpractice involving the loss of the use of the right leg. The plaintiff says that she was a sufferer from rheumatism.

The will was dated March 1, 1909, and is estimated at $50,000, and it is distributed among the heirs-at-law. Ethel Warner Mothcrhead of Pasadena is a daughter.

Sheldon Borden filed a petition in the Superior Court yesterday for probate of the will of Robert Carhart, who died in this city on March 23, 1910. The total estate is valued at $100,000. The property at No. 2714 West Ninth street, worth $5000, a life insurance policy for $3000 and $5000 worth of personal property. The property goes to Elizabeth B. Carhart, the widow. Dehm, subscribed $5.

ANNULMENT DESIRED. Edward L. Johnson filed a suit in the Superior Court yesterday against Mildred A. Johnson, whom he married in Los Angeles December 18, 1910, asking that the court annul the union. He alleges that at the time of the marriage his wife was not of sound mind, which condition he did not discover until after they were made man and wife.

Negro Who Attacked Officer to Take Chances on Jury Freeing Him of Charge.

Though he readily admitted that he was present when a drawing in a Chinese lottery was taking place, S. Gardner, who is accused of the murder of Benson Monday night, pleaded not guilty to the battery charge and asked for a jury trial in Police Court yesterday. The trial was set for this afternoon.

When the charge of having been present when the drawing took place was proved, only half the amount due for his stock, and failed to give her note for the balance, as she had promised to do.

The defense will allege that the stockholders had full knowledge of the expenditure of the money for necessary improvements. It is asserted that the suit is simply an attempt to get their money out, rather than to punish Mrs. York for wrongdoing.

Lord After a Patrolman?

Patrolman Fitzgerald would better look out, for according to Thomas Hall, the Lord is after him. Hall disclosed Fitzgerald's danger when he was fined $10 in Police Court for having interfered with an officer.

Fitzgerald was sent to the vicinity of First and Main streets Monday night to quell a disturbance. He picked out the person he believed had started the disturbance and was about to arrest him when Hall reached for Fitzgerald's leg. He was also arrested on the interfering charge.

In Police Court Fitzgerald stated that Hall fought desperately and had to be handcuffed. When asked what he had to say, Hall whimpered that the officer had been too severe with him and that the Lord would "get him."

Outman Held for Trial.

D. P. Outman, formerly an automobile salesman for a number of different local companies, was held for trial in the Superior Court by Police Judge Chambers yesterday morning. Ball was set at $500 and he will endeavor to secure that amount.

Outman made but a slight defense to the evidence against him and the disposal of the case required but a few minutes. The specific charge against him was that he had given Mrs. Clara Schultz, who conducts a rooming house at Ninth street and Grand avenue, a fictitious check for $25, in return for a loan of that amount which she is said to have made him last January.

Bad Economy, This.

L. Burkhardt, a negro who loudly averred that he was "bawled in Naurh Carolina" might better have gone to a hotel Monday night, for when he appeared in Police Court yesterday morning, he was fined $2 for sleeping in a box car in the Santa Fe yards. After telling of the place where he was born, Burkhardt started a rapid fire recital of his life's history. After a while he reached the reason for sleeping in a box car, which was that he wanted to save his money. He had about $15 in his pocket when arrested.

Highway Robbery Charged.

John T. Wilson, a negro, charged with the highway robbery of five Japs was held for trial in the Superior Court yesterday. Police Judge Rose, who heard the preliminary examination, set bail at $2000. Wilson was transferred from the City to the County Jail.

Women Who Claim Their Money Put in Business Was Embroiled, Anxious to Get It Back.

Mrs. Dorothy York, proprietor of the Woman's Exchange, No. 17 West Seventh street, who is accused of the embezzlement of $1000 by her associates, appeared before Justice Summerfield yesterday for the fixing of bail. She was released on her own recognizance.

Mrs. York refused to make any statement regarding the case, and her attorney, Robert A. Odell, was retained. He said, however, that she had not misappropriated the money, which was put into the business in exchange for stock by Mrs. Clara Cronlock, Mrs. Alice Kinsey, Mrs. Mildred Lyons and Mrs. Sharpe.

About October 13 the exchange moved into its present quarters, and the purchase of furnishings and fittings became necessary. A sale of stock was determined on, and these women were given certificates, the defense states, in which the details of the transaction appeared.

Mrs. York remained in possession of 51 per cent of the total issue. Most of the others bought five shares apiece at $100 each. It is asserted that Mrs. Cronlock paid only half the amount due for her stock, and failed to give her note for the balance, as she had promised to do.

effective changes in her offering. "At the Seashore," she's a summer girl, a French count, a coster boy, a suffragette, a splash-me maiden, in rapid rotation, pleasing in all these parts, but especially so as the splash-me, for her costume is very, very abbreviated and her curves are attractive. Evensings, humoresquely and sentimentally.

Then come Al Weston and Irene Young in a skit—whatever you call it—entitled "A Modern Filletation." Their singing isn't half bad, and their fun is awfully silly but awfully funny. They have the gift of humor. So has Hardin Langdon, whose songs are shrewd and amusing, and whose facial contortions and winks are a scream. Miss Langdon has magnetism and talent with a battery of beguiling smiles.

Edmund Soraghan, William Lennox and Bonnetta Sorra give a playlet, "Doctor's Substitute," which is a rather poor vehicle for their undoubted talents. It isn't really amusing, though its capable exponents try hard to make it so. Mr. Lennox is a character actor of parts. He is entirely convincing as Sandy McTavish, and also as the mad woman. The end of the playlet is good—it's the travesty on "Julius Caesar" that kills. Miss Sorra sings "My Little Irish Rose" in a sweet, light soprano voice, and Mr. Soraghan is at right as David Blanton, a producing manager. (Belasco?)

I suppose the Four Musical Avoloes are the finest phononists in the world. At any rate, I can't imagine anything better than their delightful rendition of the overture from "William Tell," their resounding "Avoio March," their selection from "The Chocolate Soldier," in which one of the ladies sings "My Hero" in a powerful voice of magnificent timbre and quality. The Avoloes come from Vienna.

The show ends with amusing moving pictures.

The Queen City Four has a comedy singing act at the Hyman this week that pleases. It is seldom that a quartette can succeed in putting on song after song without having one number that is a poor one, but this four has apparently been successful in steering clear of all dead wood. In the quarter of an hour that they are before the audience there is not a dull moment. The "kid" comedy of one of the boys is clear and clear cut.

Tucker and Harrison present a skit with the scent of clover all through it. It is a dainty offering with a character impersonation that has a heart story. Their singing is quite on a par with their acting. Miss Tucker is extremely pretty and does her part in keeping the act up to standard.

Clarice Punch has long been known as "the little girl with the big voice," and she fully justifies that title. To say that she has taken the audiences at the Hyman by storm is putting it mildly. "It is very seldom that a singing act is not made good, is recorded the reception at this house that she receives at each performance. Miss Punch is a dainty comedienne of the magnetic order.

Miss Florence Flaxman has a repertoire of new songs. She is five feet of solid harmony. This is her far-reaching engagement in Los Angeles and her many admirers are setting this opportunity to show their admiration for her in the way of massive bouquets at every performance.

During the first run pictures the house is slightly darkened in a manner that rents the eyes from the glare of the electric lights. There is a notable absence of flicker on the pictures shown and a commendable diversity of subjects.

The Rengo Belt Reinforced Corset

Among the late models shown in our Corset Section there are two styles of Rengo Belt models, for medium and large figures, that cannot be excelled:

Of the many corsets designed to give style and poise to the stout figure, none are so successful as these, which absolutely succeed in reducing the hips, give long, flowing curves from waist to thigh, and correctly reproduce the latest lines of Fashion.

Practically all corsets, if fitted with any degree of care, are comfortable, but not every model produces style. Rengo Belt corsets are boned throughout with double watch-spring steel, which holds the form firmly though flexibly, and moulds the figure into graceful and stylish lines without discomfort.

The greatest possible amount of comfort, and the beautiful smooth back and hips of latest Fashion can be combined if you will let us fit you correctly with the proper Rengo Belt corset.

The reinforcing belt worked over the hips and front of every Rengo Belt corset is in just the right place to form stylish contour without the least stiffness or tightness.

All corsets are, of course, fitted without extra charge.

vain and, as the months rolled round, became more and more fretful. Finally he decided to hunt twenty-three years old when she left home.

He went to Rome and several of the Italian cities. The trace led then to Paris, London and finally to New York. She had visited girl friends in that city and accompanied one to St. Louis.

It was while in this city that the Count met Alvah Wilson, who had been presented to him years previously in Paris. He told the hotel man of his trouble and enlisted his sympathy and his promise to keep a lookout for the young woman. They parted, Wilson returning to San Francisco and the Count moving slowly from one city to another, as he succeeded in finding the trail of his daughter.

COUNT FALLS SICK.

Arriving in Kansas City, Count Lubiatowski was stricken with a nervous disease. He was taken from the Baltimore hotel to the hospital of the Sisters of St. Joseph. His illness was so serious that his only son was summoned from Poland.

Still determined to find his daughter, he telegraphed Wilson to come at once as he was one of the few friends he had met in America. Wilson had a number of consultations with the Count and finally accepted the trust of continuing the search. This was five years ago.

Wilson took up the search, called in the assistance of a well-known detective bureau, and located a number of stopping places for the girl, now grown to mature womanhood. This was finally lost when she changed her name a second time, from Lina Lubia to Mary Graham.

This common name soon lost her in a maze of similar names, and Wilson practically gave up the search. Just three weeks ago, in a peculiar manner, he stumbled across the trail of the woman in San Francisco. She had arrived there shortly before the earthquake, taken apartments at an obscure family hotel and, attended by a servant, lived practically retired.

CLEW IN PAWNSHOP.

Wilson is a collector of odd jewelry, such as antique stick-pins. While rummaging through a pawnshop on the south of Market street, he discovered a rare Russian piece. It was a peculiar pendant. Examining it with the eye of a connoisseur, he saw a coat of arms on the inside, and the name of Lubiatowski. It started him.

He asked how the pawnbroker obtained it. The ancient Jew who kept the place told him of a beautiful woman, dark-haired, elegantly dressed, dressed in somber black of plain material and cut, who had bargained with him for the pledge, on which she obtained $100, when it was worth nearly ten times the amount.

The description, possible circumstances and all figured in so exactly that Wilson again set himself to the task of looking for the woman. He found that she lived in the city until after the earthquake, when, with many refugees, she came to Los Angeles.

Came Six Thousand Miles to Take Teleconi Treatment

Stomach and Bowel Trouble That Had Baffled the Best Scotch Doctors Yields in Short Order.

THE TELECONI MAN.

Six thousand miles were not too far for P. R. Gordon to travel to take a course of Teleconi treatments, and to-day he would travel entirely around the world if necessary, rather than miss the benefits of that course. Mr. Gordon came to Los Angeles from Helensborough, near Glasgow, Scotland, just to take the treatment for a disordered stomach and bowels. And a story that he read in a Los Angeles paper is what started him on this long journey in search of health.

Mr. Gordon is a handsome, athletic, well educated young man with a pleasing personality and a high degree of intelligence, and with it all there is the hard-headed common sense of his race which cannot be imposed upon, but bases all of his conclusions on firm evidence. He is cured and he knows it, and he does not hesitate to tell how he was cured.

For some years Mr. Gordon was troubled with a weak stomach, which finally brought on a chronic case of enteritis. His intestines were constantly sore and he was subject to diarrhoea all the time. This latter condition had been growing worse the past few months until he found his strength so depleted that he had to give up his position as book-keeper in one of the oldest banking concerns in Glasgow.

One day, in the hotel at which he boarded he chanced to pick up a Los Angeles paper and read of the cure of W. E. Gillespie of Greeley, Colorado. There was so much similarity in Mr. Gillespie's case and his own that he wrote to find out if the story was true, and immediately on getting a favorable reply he started for California, arriving in Los Angeles four weeks ago. He enrolled for a course of Teleconi treatment at the Hotel Roslyn, and the statement made to the reporter by Mr. Gordon himself is as follows:

"This treatment has done a wonderful work for me," said he. "I had been troubled for a long time with stomach and intestinal complaints and could get no relief, though I had some of the best doctors in Scotland trying to cure me. I was all down and out when I read about Teleconi and had been idle for nearly a month as I had to give up my position through my failing health. When I heard from Mr. Gillespie that decided me and I took ship at once for America. The soreness is all gone out of my intestines, I can eat regularly and heartily and my diarrhoea is gone, my bowels being more regular than they have been in five years. I am in fit condition for work again and I leave for Tucson, Arizona, to-night to take a position that has been offered me. I am glad I found this treatment, and I would go around the world to get it again if I needed it."

Regal Shoes at Cost Plus 5 per Cent.

An Earthquake for the Trade, but a Benefit to the Public

Regal Prices Are Now $3.35 to $5.85

NOBODY OUTSIDE the shoe trade can realize what a jolt that trade received when the Regal Shoe Company announced its new pricing policy.

"HENCEFORTH," said the Regal Shoe Co., "all the shoes we make will be priced at COST OF MANUFACTURE AND SELLING, PLUS FIVE PER CENT. COMMISSION, no matter whether that price figures out in odd or even money, and without regard to the 50c price between prices, heretofore arbitrarily fixed in the shoe business."

IT WAS NOT the five per cent. that gave the jolt. The Regal Shoe Co. has always done business on a five per cent. profit and every manufacturer knew it. It was the abandonment of the "even price" that caused the stir.

THAT "EVEN-PRICE" policy has been the darling superstition of the shoe trade for twenty years or more. Standard shoes had been sold for so long at $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00 and so on, that dealers thought no other prices were possible.

"BARGAIN" SHOES—nameless products shoved out by shoe "departments"—might be sold at odd prices. But standard makes—oh, never!

IT WAS ARGUED seriously by expert shoe-salesmen that men and women who wanted shoes of name and character would rather pay even prices. That is, they argued that a man would rather pay $5.00 than $4.85, whether or not he got anything worth having for that extra 15c.

AND SO, WHEN a designer produced a new shoe that could be sold for profit and all at $4.85, the manufacturers were up against an embarrassing situation.

THEY COULD DO any one of three things—and some one of these three things they all did:

THEY COULD LET that $4.85 shoe stand as it was and ask $5.00 for getting an extra 15c profit, if Regal competition would allow it—or

THEY COULD ADD 15c worth of unnecessary expense to the shoe, bringing its price up to $5.00

OR, THEY COULD SKIN 35c worth OUT of the shoe, bringing its price down to the next even figure—$4.50, but spoiling the shoe's quality-balance.

BUT AS FOR DOING the obvious and proper thing—selling the shoe for $4.85—why that was not to be thought of!

SEEMS RIDICULOUS, doesn't it? But all superstitions seem ridiculous after you have exploded them. And the Regal has exploded this one.

HEREAFTER, Regal Shoes will be built just as the Regal style-builders plan them. They know their business, and they know their public.

IF THEY SAY "This shoe is right as it stands—the best shoe that can be devised and built for its particular want and purpose"—why that shoe is going to the public just as it is, unaltered by a foolish custom.

THE DESIGNERS will not be required to add anything unnecessary to it, nor to take anything out of it, to bring its price up to or down to any set figure.

THE MANUFACTURING COST of that shoe will be figured carefully; five per cent. will be added and a further allowance covering the actual cost of selling that shoe to the customer, and the resulting sum will be the price of that particular shoe, whether it is $3.35, or $3.50, or $4.85, or whatever it is.

THE PRICE WILL BE STAMPED ON THE SHOE AT THE FACTORY and certified public accountants will verify the price and also verify the fact that only five per cent. commission is added.

YOU GAIN MORE than the dimes you save by the odd prices. You gain also by better balanced quality and by the fact that you pay only for what you want.

REGAL Style-Builders now have a free hand. They simply get out the BEST SHOE THAT THEY CAN DEVISE for a certain purpose and at about a certain price. You pay for exactly what you get, plus the 5 per cent. You are taxed nothing for useless additions.

STEAM GIVES WAY TO JUICE.

ELECTRIFIED LINE READY WHEN CITY GIVES WORD.

Through Service Over Exposed Road to be Operated to Beach As Soon As Authority is Received—Line to Burbank to be Constructed Shortly.

There is now a through electrified line from the Pacific Electric station at Santa Monica. One of the first construction propositions following the merger of the interurban lines was the changing of the Southern Pacific steam track between Slaus and Clement Junction to an electric line.

This work has been completed, and here only remains the necessary partition from the city to enable the Pacific Electric to begin operating a through service between the city and Santa Monica. The new connection also affords a connection between the San Pedro and Long Beach lines of the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Pacific lines to Santa Monica, and a connection from all of these with the Arcade station of the Southern Pacific Railroad.

Paul Shoup, vice-president of the Pacific Electric, made the journey yesterday over the newly constructed line to Santa Monica. He made the trip in two weeks ago for permission to use the new transformed line between Slaus and Clement Junction.

LINE TO BURBANK.

READY TO BUILD IT.

An adjustment of a right of way, delayed by the sickness of the owner, is the only obstacle to the immediate construction of the proposed electric line between Los Angeles and Burbank. The general proposition has been carried out both as involves the objections of the residents of Burbank, in regard to right of way, and the right to be taken by the Pacific Electric.

The project has been approved and we have the money and the authority to build the line," said Mr. Shoup last night. "We are awaiting only one or two small details which are being taken care of by the residents of Burbank, and which pertain to right of way, before beginning construction."

EDITOR GIRL IS PINCHED.

Guy Eddie Says the Show Is Naughty and Claps on Brakes of Righteousness—Managerial Remark.

"The Girl from Rector's" hid her face under the bushel of city-prosecutor modesty last night.

Over 100 persons who had purchased tickets were given their money back at the Auditorium box-office.

Guy Eddie and Thomas Lee Woolf, who consulted together on the evening of the Monday night representation. They sat well forward, and decided that it wasn't fit for other folks to see.

A conference between the owners, Guy Eddie and Walter Hedges, Manager of the show, and Guy Eddie, took place during the most of yesterday. It was lengthy and rather torrid. Eddie stated that he believes the picture is a vulgar and that if he is shown given last evening he could summarily arrest every participant. Attorney Glenarvon Belymer, unsolicited quietude for an evening at last, and so last night there was no show.

Messrs. Pion and Hedges stated that they are reinforcing their battery of legal talent, and if there is any way of preventing the picture from being shown official today, quick action will be taken.

The female members of the company, which numbers between twenty and thirty individuals, stood about in pairs and posing groups, far from being modest with little money, and using a closure in Los Angeles that could possibly prevent other appearances throughout this end of the state, thus in all probability causing the disbanding of the company and the possible standing of a lot of innocent actors.

The proprietors, Pion and Hedges, are very bitter. "This fellow has never dared attack the big shows, at no Mason or the Majestic," said they. Things like "Madame Sherry" and "The Girl from Rector's" are "pinched" by the city. We come in with a company of ladies and gentlemen, and a show which has been purged of all immorality and is "pinched" by the city. What's what this fellow calls justice. Prospects for a show tonight do not look bright.

"The Girl from Rector's" was presented last night.

OIL OPERATORS.

11-23, Maricopa, spent last week on the lease.

W. R. Jacobs, president and general manager of the Gato City Oil Company, has been spending some time in the Maricopa field, but has returned to San Francisco.

Forty-four years ago S. A. Sheppard, T. Cohn, S. Eldridge, S. Wiley, C. D. Gibbs and H. W. Briggs filed on "petroleum lands" at the Visalia Land Office, according to records still preserved.

M. V. Benedum and I. C. Trees, well known oil men of Pennsylvania, have been visiting the West Side field of Kern county with a possible view to investment. They are heavily interested in Illinois oil properties.

Mrs. Augusta Leeger has given John P. Lawton an option to purchase the south half of section 20 and all of section 21, 22-23, Maricopa, for a consideration of $70,000.

The Midland Oil Company, which has three producing wells on the northwest quarter of section 22, 23-24, Maricopa, is erecting a 50,000 barrel steel tank on the lease.

W. P. Russell, field superintendent for the Hibiscus Oil Company, has begun operations on the southeast quarter of the northwest quarter of section 15, 22-23, Maricopa field, the land being leased from the Union Oil Company.

Parker Barrett of Lakeview, a well known oil man, and an old-time operator of the northern fields, has recently purchased an interest in the reorganized Maricopa Oil News, and has been elected vice-president of the company. He can now be called an editor.

The Gato City Oil Company lease, located on the northern edge of the town of Maricopa, recently suffered from a fire that destroyed the rig and consumed considerable oil in the tanks. The loss was $2500.

The Maricopa Queen Oil Company, operating a twenty-acre lease from the McCutcheon brothers, on section 22, 23-24, went in to the big sand about a week ago with No. 2 well, and it immediately began spouting at the rate of 1000 barrels an hour. After flowing for nearly two hours the well sanded up and was left in that condition while hasty efforts were inaugurated to take care of future production.

Sharp Practice.

DESERT LAND BECOMES RICH.

HINT OF FRAUD IN ACQUIRING OIL PROPERTY.

Government Sends Man From Local Land Office to Investigate Charge of Alleged Irregularities and May Bring Suit to Clear Title. Worth a Fortune.

Reports alleging that gigantic frauds have been committed in Cochise county, Arizona, in connection with the acquisition of valuable oil lands, caused G. W. Helm, chief of the field division of the Land Office, to leave for Arizona last night.

Helm refused to discuss his mission, but it is known that he has received orders direct from Washington to make an investigation of the alleged duplicity which has been practiced in taking up the public domain.

The lands involved in the case were of practically no value until it was discovered that they were rich in oil. This fact is alleged to have been responsible for the lax manner in which they were taken up.

It is said that individual settlers filed on them and subsequently assigned them to a company which made an application for patents before the discovery of oil was made. The property consists of hundreds of acres.

On account of the alleged irregularities in getting the property from the government, Uncle Sam is considering the advisability of beginning proceedings to clear his title to them. The original contest will probably take place in the courts at Tombstone.

RALLY OF VETERANS.

John S. McGraw will address a rally of veterans of the Civil War in the sun parlor of the Long Wharf at Long Beach Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The gathering will be under the auspices of the Veterans' Club of Long Beach, which has a membership of over six hundred. It is expected that 1000 veterans of the Civil War will be at the rally. This being practically the semi-centennial of the Civil War, the speaker will review the events of the great struggle and dwell upon the conditions of the old soldiers of today. McGraw will repeat his address in Mammoth Hall, this city, April 16, at an open meeting under the auspices of Stanton Post, G.A.R.

You can enjoy these privileges at beautiful Beverly Hills—where natural beauty has been preserved forever. Even $500,000 worth of public improvements have not encroached upon the natural picturesque—no, they have only enhanced it!

The most discriminating people are choosing ideal home plots at Beverly Hills. Home after home—all of striking architectural design—are adorning the splendid sites of Los Angeles' finest suburb. Go with us and see the incomparable beauties of Beverly Hills—and also note the costly public improvements—sewers, telephones, gas, electricity, mountain water, wide, gracefully-curving petroleumatic boulevards, pretty parks, water garden (a veritable show spot), ornamental shrubs and trees, mammoth nursery, $100,000 Country Club House, etc.

Nothing half so good is offered in or suburban to Los Angeles as anywhere near Beverly Hills prices.

He continues his trip North tomorrow morning, his itinerary covering many points between here and Portland; then eastward to Salt Lake and Denver; up along the northern border by way of the Great Lakes, then on to New York and down the Atlantic coast. Los Angeles completes only about one fourth of his engagements.

Deaths Strikes on Train.
Mining Engineer McMahon of This City Passes Away Suddenly While Crossing Arizona on the Santa Fe.

Percy Hamilton McMahon, one of the prominent mining engineers of the coast, died suddenly Monday afternoon on a Santa Fe train, not far from Kingman, Ariz. He was a graduate of Columbia University, which honored him with three degrees. Fifteen years ago he came to California from Colorado, and he had been interested in large mining ventures in both States, notably in the Randeburg mines. He was in active business up to the end, both independently and as a consulting engineer. At the time of his death he had just come from inspecting a mine in Arizona.

Although complete arrangements have not been made, owing to the fact that the body has been sent to this city, it is probable that the funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at the residence, No. 408 Occidental boulevard. The place of interment has not been decided upon. McMahon leaves a widow, a daughter, Mrs. F. N. Coffin, and distant relatives in the East.

FORMER SUTOR SENDS DRUG TO OTHER MAN'S WIFE.

She Craved It to Death Pain and He Mailed It—As Letter Was in Tender Vein, Hobby Became Incensed and Placed It in Authority's Hands.

A tangle of love letters, jealousy and morbidness was woven about the arrest of Victor Owen of El Dorado, Kan., which was effected by the Federal officers yesterday morning as he left a Santa Fe train at La Grande station.

Fear that Owen was coming to kidnap his wife, the daughter of a Kansas minister, led William H. Bradford, a mechanic of this city, to swear to a complaint, which is the basis for prosecution.

The specific charge against Owen is that of having sent poison through the mail to Mrs. Bradford, while she lay sick in the hospital.

Behind the formal allegation is a strange story, which has been only partly unfolded by the Federal officials. They have probed no deeper than to get sufficient evidence to warrant making the arrest.

Owen, who was locally known as "Toots," and Ada Hicks were friends in El Dorado. Less than a year ago, Bradford met the young woman, married her and brought her to this city.

According to Owen's admissions, he and the woman have had some correspondence since. "I answered two or three of her letters," is the way he explained it.

son, superintendent of the Ontario and San Antonio Heights Railroad, and F. H. Anderson, electric engineer of the Pacific Electric Company.

The Pacific Coast convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will be held in this city April 25 to 28. A large attendance is expected. A special train from Chicago will bring many eastern members.

HITS SALACIOUS PLAY.
Dr. Crossfield Turns Himself Loose on the Nasty Productions at the Theaters, and Touches Dogs and Cats.

Incidentally, "The Girl from Rector's" came in for a jab during the sermon preached last night by Dr. Crossfield, the evangelist conducting the union revival meetings at the First Church of the Nazarenes. Dr. Crossfield hit a popular cord when he made a carefully worded attack upon unclean theater productions. He is president of Transylvania University of Lexington, Ky., and has the southern fearlessness as well as the southern fire.

Preaching on "Old Time Heartfelt Religion," the evangelist took as his text, "Pure religion and undefiled is to visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction and to keep oneself unstained from the world."

It was when treating the last clause of this text that the eloquent preacher played impure amusements, as well as impurity in general. He said "The Girl from Rector's" had been played in numerous cities in Kentucky, Indiana, Maryland and California, at times when he was holding meetings in these cities, and that the morality of the play seemed to hinge on what the manager of the play thought the town would stand.

He said that in Pomona, last Friday night, the play was and in rapid, according to reports which he got at first hand from theater goers, because the salacious scene was omitted. This was the practice of the companies playing in smaller towns, but in the larger cities the evil features were most offensive.

Dr. Crossfield advocated a censorship of all plays put on the boards in a city like Los Angeles. The puritan show, he declared to be the most fruitful agency for corrupting life in our cities today. He, however, praised the vast improvement which California has made in recent years, in moral censorship.

Dr. Crossfield said the old time religion was a religion a hundred percent pure, undiluted, undomesticated, and stood for clean life and noble service. Referring to orphans, he declared that there were many thousands of them who are worthy of our care and God expected us to open our hearts and take them, in preference to so much attention to dogs and cats. The narration of the scene at Richmond, Va., last winter, when he saw Olga, Netherlands, insist on taking her pet dog to her apartment, but was met with refusal, created much amusement in the audience.

The meetings are being largely attended. P. P. Bilhorn is leading the large chorus and sang a solo last night with wonderful effect. Dr. Crossfield will speak tonight on "Is the Infidel Honest and Intelligent in His Infidelity?" He will speak at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the First Lutheran Church, Eighth and Flower streets.

For four consecutive hours yesterday detectives from the District Attorney's office plied her with questions and learned nothing.

WANTS TO SEE UNDER SEA.

That's Why Princess Cantacujin of Romania Is Here With Her Brother, Prince Fayd of Egypt.

Prince Fayd, who is a relative of Abbas Heli, the reigning Khedive of Egypt, at first denied his rank, and then stated in excellent English that he has been traveling incognito and does not desire to attract any attention. He is immensely pleased with California as far as he has seen it from the window of a car. Today he and Princess Cantacujin will go to Catalina, as it is the dearest desire of the Princess to see the submarine gardens of which she has heard in her youth.

She frankly stated last night that the reason she and her brother did not go direct East from San Francisco was her desire to see the submarine gardens.

Prince Abbas Fayd of Egypt, who has been traveling incognito around the world in company with his sister, the Princess Cantacujin, and maid, of Roumania, arrived last night at the Alexandria branch in New York.

The party landed at San Francisco two days ago direct from Japan. After one day's stay here they will leave for New York to establish a branch office. They are accompanied by a mountain train of luggage, fantastically embellished with presents and crests denoting the rank of the two members of the party. Assembled in the lobby of the Alexandria, it covered fully twenty square feet, and caused a commotion.

PROMINENT GERMAN HERE.
President of Berlin Scenery House Reaches This City on Pleasure Trip. Established New York Branch.

Richard Baruch, president of the Hugo Baruch & Co. of Berlin, and his wife are staying at the Alexandria. In theatrical circles the name stands for the foremost costumers and scenery house in Germany, as well as in this country, for Baruch, on this trip, has located a branch in New York.

In addition, he managed the affairs of Richard Strauss to the extent of placing the latest opera of that composer, "The Rose Cavalier," with Fritz Whittner under a guarantee of $52,000 in royalties for the first season.

Baruch will furnish all the costumes and scenery for this new production. He has been furnishing for Klav & Erlanger, Savage, Frohman, Liebler and others for many years. In his native country he is the costumer for the royal court, furnishing the special uniforms for officers, soldiers and servants, as well as their masters.

The trip to the Pacific Coast is entirely for pleasure. Mr. and Mrs. Baruch came here from Grand Canyon. After visiting the show places in the vicinity they will proceed to Santa Barbara and San Francisco.

GOVERNOR SPRY BANQUETED.
Executive Committee of Land and Products Exposition Entertains Visiting Governor at Casa Verdugo.

Gov. William Spry of Utah was the guest of honor at a dinner at Casa Verdugo last night. The affair was arranged by the Executive Committee of the Land and Products Exposition as an expression of appreciation of the work of Utah citizens in placing a splendid exhibit at the local show.

Stock Advances Friday Night March 31

Four of the seven directors of the Los Angeles Investment Company devote their entire time and energy to the work of the company. Their entire personal fortunes are invested in its stock. They have no outside interests and do not deal in real estate or do a building business for themselves or indirectly for their personal benefit.

For the stockholders, this means, first: an honest administration, because jeopardizing a stockholder's interests would harm their own interests more. It means, second: undivided attention to one business, and a concentrated effort to push the company's plans and developments through to a successful conclusion. It means, third: that all of the profits, including the heavy ones made on real estate, will go to the company and not to individuals. Of the principal profits of this company the past year, 58 per cent. came from real estate, 40 per cent. from interest and 2 per cent. from building construction.

Chas. A. Elder, President and Manager, has been with the company or its predecessor thirty-seven years. His entire time belongs to the company. W. D. Deeble, Secretary, and G. M. Derby, Treasurer, have been with the company more than fifteen years, and Harry D. Rodgers, Auditor, has been with it since 1905. All of these men put in more than full time in handling the company's business. Chas. Cassat Davis, Vice-President, A. P. Thomson and C. L. Bagley are the company's Attorneys and Directorate. They spend as much time on the company's legal business as is necessary. There are no dummy directors. All seven are active directors every day in the year.

The Los Angeles Investment Company was established in this city thirteen years before its stock was offered for public sale. Its foundations were well and carefully laid. Its profits have returned more in cash dividends to stockholders in the last fifteen years than any other similar company in the world.

Investors can put money into almost anything. But can they get it out? No investor in Los Angeles Investment Company stock has ever failed to have returned to him his investment in full on demand, even during the panic years.

Your Money Back in Two Minutes

A unique proposition, hard to start and more difficult to carry out. This company's small stockholders are absolutely guaranteed by the $50,000 Guarantee Fund, held and managed by the Globe Savings Bank. If you want your money back, take your stock certificate to the bank, ask for your money, and it will be handed to you. Do you know of anything more easy than that?

Stock advances Friday night. There is less than 16 per cent. of Los Angeles Investment Company Stock yet to be sold.

WHEAT SCALPERS AFFECT MARKETS.

WHEAT PROVES LISTLESS ON CHICAGO EXCHANGE.

Higher Values Mark Early Part of Session, With Speculators Inclined to Favor Moderate Rally—Cash Markets Weak and Close Is Within Shade of Lowest Point.

(Associated Press Night Report.)

CHICAGO, March 28.—It was largely a waiting market for wheat today. Values were higher early, the short interest being somewhat extended and most speculators inclined to favor a moderate rally. Besides there was an advance at Liverpool and further reports of unfavorable conditions for the growth of the crop in southwestern Kansas. Another source of temporary strength came from a substantial decrease in the world's available supply. Cash markets were, however, proved listless. Final transactions were within a shade of the lowest point reached. May ranged from 77 1/2 to 78 1/2, and the end was 78 1/2. Cash 78 1/2. Announcement of export sales of corn strengthened that cereal, but it reacted favorably on wheat. The corresponding day a year ago. The world's visible supply, 2,200,000 bushels, decreased 1,000,000 bushels. Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat, 30 cars; corn, 30 cars; oats, 10 cars; barley, 10 cars.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour barely steady; No. 1, 77 1/2; feed or milling, 77 1/2; hard, 77 1/2; soft, 77 1/2; No. 2, 77 1/2; No. 3, 77 1/2; No. 4, 77 1/2; No. 5, 77 1/2; No. 6, 77 1/2; No. 7, 77 1/2; DELMAS TURNS THE TIDE
WITH HIT TO THE FENCE.

Portland Beavers Look Like Winners Until Local Second Sacker Knocks Heart Out of Visiting Pitchers. Then the Panic Becomes a Rout and Three Twirlers Are Slaughtered—Season Opens.

BY GREY OLIVER.

WITH a mighty swat that drove the ball against the left field fence with a thump and lifted seven thousand respectable citizens from their seats and made wildly screeching maniacs of them, Bert Delmas doubled in the seventh inning and turned what looked like defeat to a victory, in the opening game of the Pacific Coast League season at Washington Park, yesterday afternoon.

Two runs scored on the drive and Los Angeles forged to the front and was never headed. So disheartened did Pitcher Seaton, of the Beavers, become after Delmas' hit that he became unsteady and Manager McCredie yanked him out and sent in Southpaw Archer. The new man, thus called upon in a crisis, failed, and the panic of the visitors turned into a rout. Archer gave base after base on balls and when he did get them over the Angels clouted the horsehide.

McCredie again crooked his arm and yanked out Archer, sending in Koestner to stem the tide of defeat. It took time to stop the rush, and meanwhile Los Angeles scored more runs. Finally the eighth, into which the battle had dragged, was over, but the day was won and lost.

Portland made a valiant effort to come back in the ninth, but it failed to reach, and one more defeat went down on McCredie's record for the opening of the season.

Did you ever hear of the man in the desert, who, with parched throat and burning, aching body, struggled along through sheer, grim determination, to come, suddenly upon some cool, sparkling spring that trickled its way along through clumps of grateful shade trees?

Did you ever get a line on the chap who struggled along for years with poverty as his helpmate and full portions of disappointment three times a day, and who awakened one morning to find that his blessed old aunt—with consumption and a bank roll—had passed peacefully away and left the fortune for him to spend?

These are the angles—or we might say, the tri-angles—from which we are steering today. The winter of our discontent has gone into the junk pile of forgetfulness; the off-season period when we won pennants on paper, or sit-

 SAFULPA (Okla.) March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After six rounds of fighting, in which he had little opposition, Carl Morris of Sapulpa, Oklahoma's aspirant for heavyweight championship honors, knocked out Mike Schreck, of Cincinnati, here today. That the result was no surprise can be easily seen from the fact that Morris bang in three of the six cities on the circuit and Los Angeles probably holds the record for the banner crowd with an attendance of 7100 fans. There was a great outpouring of the faithful in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Sacramento, and favored with delightful California weather the opening of the season was a big success. The proper kind of official dignitaries acted at each opening, there was the expected amount of enthusiasm in each city, and the results were just about as expected.

Los Angeles and San Francisco won on their home grounds while the weak Sacramento team lost to Oakland. No fan could have guessed it any better and while there may be a few feelings lacerated by what happened yesterday there is plenty of time for everyone to recover, for the baseball year will not end until the last week in October.

The first games have been played to the introductory acts of band music and automobile parades but there is not a fan in the State or on the Coast that knows anything more about the team than he did yesterday morning. One game does not win or lose a championship and it will be another month before anyone can judge how the teams even might stand at the end of the season.

As far as the local fans know personally, they must have the idea that the Portland team is a good one, for it showed it was yesterday in the opening game. The Beavers soaked the ball freely, but could not make a showing until the last inning, while the locals took advantage of the tired beavers and banged the ball around scandalously in the seventh and eighth innings.

What happened up North is best told in the dispatches, but the news comes to us that the season was fittingly celebrated in Sacramento and San Francisco.

BASEBALL ON THE BOOM.
 What the fans saw in this city was enough to convince them that the baseball business is very much to the boom. The afternoon began with an auto parade and band music through the principal streets. The big traveling show left the City Hall shortly after 1 o'clock and the route was down Broadway to Seventh street to Main, to the Temple block and then ling around the stove at the grocery store, is a thing of the past, and another campaign for the flag is on.

The regular baseball season of 1911 opened yesterday afternoon at the new Washington-Street Park, and from our very boots comes the devout utterance, "The saints be praised." The waiting time is over, speculation is a memory, anticipation has become the real thing. It is the open season for get-away excuses, lame and able-bodied, and, as they say in the classics, "There is something doing, believe me."

What do State and national affairs amount to, now? What does it matter if we have to put a crimp in the ambition of old Doctor Diaz, get the tariff regulated or ever finish the Panama Canal? We are in the midst of an event next in importance to the signing of the Declaration of Independence, for the season of our national pastime has arrived again. Once more the cycles of the seasons have brought baseball to our very doors, perennial. Infectious baseball, the game it would take the psychology of myriad minds to properly define. What do we care whether school keeps or not? Things ephemeral

TRIPLE BY LEWIS DEFEATS HOGAN'S CLAN IN THE NORTH.

After Outfielder Apparently Struck Out He Slams the Ball to Deep Field—Vernon Hits Up Game Fight But Fates Decried That Home Team Should Win—Moller Sends in First Run With Drive to Fence.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before a howling mob of 3000 people that were moved from San Francisco and now against them, the Beas beat Happy Hogan's reconstructed visitors, 5 to 4.

There is always going to be more than a lingering suspicion in the minds of thousands that Jimmy Lewis, whose three-run homer in the eighth, won the game in reality struck out.

However that may be, whether Lewis intended to swing or whether he was simply ducking a high ball, as umpire Flinn saw it, the fact remains that Danny Long's men did not win the game of the season.

The action of the game started in the second inning, and to the credit of Kid Moller, he booted the first run across when Oscar Vitt walked and stole. Moller tried to the right field fence and stole. The third sacker sprinted home in safety.

Vernon took a brief lead in the fourth, after fanned Carlisle and Carroll at the head of the batting list, but then he was hit by a center and advanced to third on Brennan's right field safety. A steal carried when Patterson hit out to the left field, but he was out.

That lead, however, didn't last. Melchor got his home run over right in the fourth as a starter, and Tennant kept up the bombardment by smacking the Lewis sacrifice, and Vitt for the second time, walked and stole. Moller should have scored, and Tennant should have scored, but it was all the same when Schmidt cracked the ball over the head of home center, both men being ahead of him falling.

It was tied up in the fifth, McDonnell hit to second and Hogan to center, batting for Carson, popped to Vitt on the third-base foul line, Carlisle drove on one with cannonball speed past Vitt, but was thrown out.

The grand stand, that was, voiced its disapproval. Carlisle, again, expressed himself in such uncertain terms that he was banished to the clubhouse.

With the score standing 4 all, the game settled down until the last of the eighth, McAdams picked a juicy one to the left, offered, and beat out the throw from second. Weaver, who had replaced Melchor, sacrificed, and Tennant, after a ball had been called, when Lewis fanned, but one into left field by the third-base back that was practically lost to sight. McAdams scored and vaulted when he tried to execute the double steal with Vitt.

Dillon Acts As Receiver For New Ball and Bat—Peckinpaugh Makes Sensational Stop of Abbott's Hard Grounder. Both Teams To Be Guests of Lew Dockstader at His Show Tonight.

Peckinpaugh is a pretty nice little shortstop and he showed his class in the sixth inning. Abbott hit a fast grounder to the right of the plate and he stuck his left hand over the plate and made a sensational stop of Abbott's hard grounder. Both teams to be guests of Lew Dockstader at his show tonight.

The game yesterday was a fine exhibition by Portland, when it is remembered that it was the first real game the Beavers have played this season.

Delmas is getting to be the hitting fool of the team, his double and single showing that he has not lost his eye.

Metzger pulled off a pretty assist in first on Rapp's hard grounder past second base in the fifth. It was a long run across on the wrong side of the bag but he nabbed it in classy style.

The game.
